CREAM OF NEWS.

Another Just Verdict.

In Friday's New Era the following notices appeared: "The jury in the case of Tom Leavell against the L. & N. railroad company, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff this morning. Tom Leavell will be remembered as the old colored man who was knocked from the track by a freight car in the city limits several months ago. The old man fled suit through his attorney against the heartless, soulless corporation, claiming damages to the amount of $2,000."

Our neighbor is in error. The jury gave a prompt verdict for the defendant, as it should have done. There was no merit in the case. Tom Leavell, col., was walking between the main and mill tracks of the railroad in this city on Mar. 18. The tracks are 8 feet apart and the engine projections 20 inches, leaving a clear space of 5 feet. Leavell admitted that he saw the train meeting him 300 feet away, but went on 170 feet further before making any movement to get out of the way. He claimed that he was then "bumped" off because he had no room to step aside, and sued the road for $2,000. The jury that tried the case were sent to the spot and stood between the tracks while trains passed and found that there was room enough for four men to stand between the moving cars. Their verdict was promptly and unanimously in favor of the defendant. A verdict against the railroad in such a case as this would have been simply an outrage.

Attempted Safe Robbery.

An attempt was made by burglars to blow open the iron safe of the Gant & Galtier Co., in their tobacco warehouse, about midnight Saturday night. Parties in the vicinity remembered having heard the explosion after the discovery was made Sunday. No investigation was made at the time, but the robbers were doubtless frightened away by hearing some noise, as they left a crowbar and other tools by the safe. The inside of the safe was not broken open and nothing was disturbed. The fact that an attempt to open it had been made was not discovered until Sunday afternoon.

The Two Chestnuts.

The Collectorship and the O. V. bond case are still unsettled.

It was confidently expected that a Collector would be appointed Wednesday of last week, but the matter went over and may or may not be settled this week.

A decision in the O. V. case was looked for Saturday, but it came not and is still hanging fire. It may come this week. This tardiness may be taken as a hopeful sign, since bad news travels fastest.

Residence Burglarized.

The dwelling house of J. H. Reece, an old farmer living in the Mt. Vernon district, was entered by burglars Friday, during the absence of the family and robbed of $85 in money and a lot of valuable papers. The thieves entered by breaking open the door, which was locked. At last accounts no clue to the robbers had been discovered.

Dr. "Amos" Thomas Stabbed.

Dr. J. Q. Thomas, surgeon for the lessors of the penitentiary convicts, was seriously stabbed by a convict, while trying to stop a fight between convicts, near Paris, Friday. A telegram to relatives here Sunday says his wound, which is below the ninth rib, is not dangerous.

Speaking of the proposed bank at Pembroke, the Criterior says: "Citizens around Pembroke have announced their readiness to subscribe to stock to the extent of $30,000 for a bank in this place. The amount can be increased to $50,000 with very little effort. As yet, we believe, it has not been decided whether to make it a State or national bank, but after the advantages of both systems have been considered it is more likely that the national system will be adopted."

There is no truth in the report maliciously circulated by some person that there will be no horses here this week for the races. The management has positive assurances of the presence of 40 or 50 good horses many of which are already arriving.

Rev. J. N. Prestridge preached the annual sermon to the graduating class of Bethel Female College Sun night. The Christian church held no services and Rev. Mr. Macdonald was present and assisted in the exercises. The audience was very large, even the gallery being packed to suffocation almost.
